LEADERSHIP & EDUCATION PROGRAMS

About the National Student Leadership Conference
Since 1989, thousands of outstanding high school students from across the United States and more than 45 countries have come to the NSLC to explore the qualities of leadership and get an insider’s perspective on some of today’s most exciting and important professions. The NSLC allows students to explore a career, experience college life and degree programs, acquire new leadership skills, make new friends and meet leading professionals and experts.

Now Accepting Applications for College Staffers
The National Student Leadership Conference runs over 30 different programs, over a wide variety of professional fields, at 13 different locations!

About the Job: TEAM ADVISORS WILL...
● Be responsible for a small group of 12 to 16 students.
● Lead small group discussions.
● Teach program specific academic and leadership sessions.
● Assist administrative staff, professors and leadership facilitators with program components.
● Act as a chaperone on educational and recreational field trips.
● Reside in the dormitory on the same floors as students, serving as a resident advisor.

About NSLC Programs:
● Each NSLC Program is designed to help students see the vast number of careers available within their area of interest.
● Students and staff visit several locations throughout the site’s host city including tours of professional facilities, research labs and museums.
● Each program centers around a hands-on, in-depth project.

Before applying to be a Team Advisor, please note:
● Team Advisors are generally current college students.
● The NSLC has a primary focus on leadership development, so applicants should have leadership experience and/or training.
● If hired, TA’s will arrive on-site 3-4 days before students arrive in order to participate in orientation and training.
● Staff will receive a stipend for each 9-day session worked (2-4 depending on site), as well as housing and food for the duration of employment. In addition, the NSLC will cover travel to and from site.
